

ALL SICK WOMEN SHOULD READ MRS. FOX'S LETTER

In All Parts of the United States Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound Has Effected Similar Cures.

Many wonderful cures of female ills are continually coming to light which have been brought about by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, and through the advice of Mrs. Pinkham, of Lynn, Mass., which is given to sick women absolutely free of charge. Mrs. Pinkham has for many years made a study of the ills of her sex; she has consulted with and advised thousands of suffering women, who today owe not only their health but even life to her helpful advice.

Mrs. Fannie D. Fox, of 7 Chestnut Street, Bradford, Pa., writes: Dear Mrs. Pinkham:—

"I suffered for a long time with womb trouble, and finally was told by my physician that I had a tumor on the womb. I did not want to submit to an operation, so wrote you for advice. I received your letter and did as you told me, and to-day I am completely cured. My doctor says the tumor has disappeared, and I am once more a well woman. I believe Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound is the best medicine in the world for women."

The testimonials which we are constantly publishing from grateful women establish beyond a doubt the power of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound to conquer female diseases.

Women suffering from any form of female weakness are invited to promptly communicate with Mrs. Pinkham, at Lynn, Mass. She asks nothing in return for her advice. It is absolutely free, and to thousands of women has proved to be more precious than gold.

Recalls Days of Intolerance. According to old deeds, the whole tract of land adjacent to the town hall at Watertown, Conn., is saddled with a condition that "no Episcopalians or other sectarians" shall be allowed to build a residence upon it for themselves.

CUTICURA GROWS HAIR

Scalp Cleared of Dandruff and Hair Restored by One Box of Cuticura and One Cake of Cuticura Soap.

A. W. Taft, of Independence, Va., writing under date of Sept. 15, 1904, says: "I have had falling hair and dandruff for twelve years and could get nothing to help me. Finally I bought one box of Cuticura Ointment and one cake of Cuticura Soap, and they cleared my scalp of the dandruff and stopped the hair falling. Now my hair is growing as well as ever. I highly prize Cuticura Soap as a toilet soap. (Signed) A. W. Taft, Independence, Va."

HER TURN HAD COME.

Woman Got Even for Unkind Remark of Long Ago.

"When you know that a woman is sensitive about any personal peculiarity," said Mrs. Snippy, "just duck whenever mention of it comes your way. Smart sayings that wound other persons' feelings are very amusing sometimes. But you never know when they are coming back at you. Once, at an evening party, I was indiscreet enough to win a laugh by a joke about Mamie Makeup's long nose. It was a night, you know. Mamie cried, and never answered when I told her I was sorry. But she did not come to my wedding, and I lost sight of her for ten years. Then I heard that she was married to the manager of a prominent theater. She gives 'Sunday evenings' during the winter, where you may meet all the top-liners on theater programmes. In summer she invites the girls of our normal school class to her Seabright cottage for a week-end. When they write to her for matinee tickets she sends them. The other day I met her in Broadway. I had been told she was stouter, and that her face had filled out. But I was scarcely prepared for such a change.

"Why, how do you do, Mamie? I said, extending my hand, 'why haven't you been to see me? We must visit. How stout you have become.'"

"She did not see my hand. She saw me reach for my card case, and she made no move toward her. She gave me a stare that was icy enough to call for the red ball, and remarked, as she passed on:—

"Thank you. I have been growing up to my nose."

OYSTER EXCELS AS A FOOD.

Easily Digestible and Highly Beneficial to the Nerves.

Recent experiments show the great digestibility of the oyster. When the oyster was crushed and placed in cold water about half of the solid matter was dissolved. When the oyster was placed uncrushed in the same medium one-fourth of its solid matter was dissolved. It is believed that the oyster is chewed more than half of it is dissolved in the mouth.

Cold water appears to be the best thing to drink with oysters. But chablis is good, dissolving 38 per cent of the solid matter of the oyster.

What are the solids of the oyster? They are the protoids corresponding to the lean of meat or the white of an egg, fat, starchy matters and glycogen. This last means the substance which the liver manufactures for future use. It is very like sugar, and when wanted for use is changed into sugar. It is the substance which makes the oyster sweet in the mouth.

But there are other valuable constituents of the oyster—what are called the glyco-phosphoric compounds. Medical men prescribe these for improving the nervous system, so that a diet of oysters is unquestionably good for the nerves. They also contain common salt, a little copper and several phosphates. And taking the whole contents of the oyster shell, one finds almost everything necessary for the food of the body.

Won Each Time. About thirty years ago a remarkable bet was made between Capt. M., a racing celebrity, and another officer who was noted for his activity.

Capt. M.—bet $50 that his fellow officer would not hop up a certain flight of stairs "two at a time."

The offer was taken, but, as there were forty-one steps in the flight, he found, after taking twenty hops, that he was left only one step to negotiate and had lost. He accused Capt. M.—of sharp practice, but the latter replied:—

"Well, I'll wager you another $50 (do it)."

The officer, thinking to get back his money, again accepted.

Capt. M.—then hopped up forty steps in twenty hops, and, hopping back one, finished by going up the last two steps, and won.

Knives for the One-Armed. "What is that thing over there?" asked a man on a high stool at a lunch counter.

The thing he was pointing at was shaped like a sickle, had a handle, and at the very tip of the blade was a pronged fork.

"That," said the waiter, "Why, that's a one-armed knife. Ever see one before?" And he passed it over the counter for inspection. "Nearly all restaurants keep them in their stock of cutlery nowadays."

"You see, the one-armed man can't cut his meat with the same motion that you or I use. He must beat down on his steak or chop, and to make the work easier for him some wise chap invented this sickle shaped knife with a fork attached."

"If you'll notice, it is made on the principle of the half circular cutter harnessmakers use. To be sure, we have to keep them sharp or their usefulness would be gone."—New York Sun.

Billion Dollar Grass.

When the John A. Salzer Seed Co., of La Crosse, Wis., introduced this remarkable grass three years ago, little did they dream it would be the most talked of grass in America, the biggest, quick, hay producer on earth, but this has come to pass.

Agricultural Editors wrote about it, Agr. College Professors lectured about it, Agr. Institute Grasses talked about it, while in the farm home by the quiet fire-side, in the corner grocery, in the village post-office, at the cemetery, at the depot, in fact wherever farmers gathered, Salzer's Billion Dollar Grass, that produces good for 10 to 14 tons hay per acre and lots of pasture besides, is always a theme worthy of the farmer's voice.

Then comes Bromus Intermis, that which there is no better grass or better perennial hay producer on earth. Grass wharves about Salzer's Teosinte, which produces 100 tons from one kernel of seed, 11 ft. high, in 100 days, rich in nutrition and readily eaten by cattle, hogs, etc., and is good for 80 tons of green and dry per acre.

Victoria Rape, the luxuriant food for pigs and sheep, which can be grown at 25c a ton, and yields at 25c a bu., both root food for sheep, hogs and cattle, also come in for their share in the discussion.

THE KEYSTONE STATE

Latest News of Pennsylvania Told in Short Order.

At the meeting of the House Appropriations Committee Chairman Plummer presented the three bills introduced by him calling for appropriations aggregating $2,000,000. The bill appropriating $2,000,000 for the maintenance of the indigent insane, Chairman Plummer explained, was an increase over that of two years ago of $150,000, for the reason that every year there is a deficiency which must be made up by the next legislature. At the instance of the State Board of Charities he had placed the sum at a figure that covers any deficiency. The two bills appropriating $300,000 for a consumptive hospital at Mont Alto and $200,000 for a similar institution at a place to be selected in the western part of the State were explained by Chairman Plummer as an earnest intention of the State to grapple with tuberculosis and try to either stamp it out or check its ravages. He said it was time the State took hold of this great question and made war on the disease direct instead of leaving it to private institutions, and under the bills he had prepared the two hospitals would be directly under the management of the Commissioner of Forestry, although forestry reservation did not enter into the matter at all.

At the annual meeting of the school directors of Delaware county, in the courthouse at Media, it was unanimously agreed to ask Governor Pennypacker to reappoint State Superintendent of Public Instruction Schaeffer. Interesting addresses were made by Prof. Jas. M. Coughlin, of Wilkes-Barre, on the subject of "Co-operation of Educational Forces," and Prof. George A. Loundley of Swarthmore College, who spoke of "Training for Citizenship." These officers were elected: President, N. P. West, of Swarthmore; vice-presidents Isaac P. Garrett, of Lansdowne, and Dr. J. C. Thomas, of Newtown; Secretary, J. Milton Lutz, of Upper Darby; Treasurer, Willard T. Galbraith, of Upper Chichester.

The citizens of Upper Providence Township are stirred over the sudden disappearance of Robert Walls, white, coachman for Ivan Fox, the wealthy Philadelphian, who has a country seat in the township just over the Media borough line. Walls has not been seen or heard from since February 20, when he left home to go to Philadelphia, with the promise to his young wife that he would return on an early afternoon train. He had about $70 when he left. Mr. Fox has interested himself in the matter, and all efforts will be made to locate Walls. During the winter Mr. and Mrs. Walls have been living at the home of Mr. Fox, caring for the property. Their cozy home is across the road from the Fox mansion.

A girl highwayman, believed to be the daughter of a miner, held up two men at different times on the road from Minersville to Lytle Colliery. One of her victims was Isaac Wentfall, a peddler, who says he was robbed of $250 in jewelry. Wentfall was on his way to one of the mining villages when the girl came out of a clearing about twenty yards in his rear. Wentfall was ordered to stop, but paid no attention, when a bullet pierced his hat. Thoroughly frightened, he became an easy victim and surrendered all his belongings, consisting of brooches, rings, lockets, etc. John Vallovitch, a workman, was also persuaded a half hour later by a pistol which the girl pointed at his head to hand over a silver watch. The girl, who is about 20 years of age, held up two men a week ago and compelled them to hand over their change, amounting to about $7.

The body of a well-dressed white man, aged about 35 years, was found beneath a floating cake of ice at the mouth of Ridley Creek, Chester, by Officer McCoach. The body was attired in a fine black suit, an overcoat and a new pair of hand-sewed shoes. Two holes are in the skull, and from the appearance of the wounds the authorities believe that the man was a victim of foul play. Coroner Gilmour and the police began at once to make a rigid investigation. The body was frozen stiff, and was evidently in the water many days.

Lieutenant Colonel Groff and Major Shannan, with Captain Kalbach, all Fourth Regiment officers, sat as a summary court martial at Pottsville and found Private Charles Boehmer, of Company F, guilty of gross negligence. He was sentenced to a fine of $25, and if he defaults in payment will be sent to jail for five days.

Franklin S. Tarbell, father of Miss Ida M. Tarbell, who is one of the editors of the McClure's Magazine, and author of a well-known history of the Standard Oil Company, and "Tarbell's Life of Lincoln," died at his home in Titusville. W. W. Tarbell, treasurer and manager of the Pure Oil Company, of Philadelphia, is a son of the deceased.

The authorities are seeking a Polisher who is equipped with a uniform of the Russian army. The Polisher, who was known as "Frank," was employed on the farm of Jacob Lambert, in Evansburg, a mile below Collegeville. His uniform attracted much attention, and it was supposed that he was a deserter from the Russian army. Wednesday night he disappeared and shortly afterward Mr. Lambert found that $26 had been stolen from his bedroom. The Polisher, it is said, also took a watch which he had borrowed from one of his countrymen on the pretense that he was going to see a girl and wanted to know when to leave.

Dr. William J. Holland, director of Carnegie Institute, Pittsburgh, will accompany Andrew Carnegie on his return to Europe, and make the presentation speech when the immense plaster cast of the diplodom, the gift of Mr. Carnegie, to the English people, is formally transferred to the British Museum in London some time next August. It is understood that King Edward has arranged to be present, attended by members of his suite, and may make a personal response to the address of Dr. Holland.

Eugene Bloch was hanged in the Lehigh County Jail, Allentown, for the murder of Mrs. Kate Fatzinger in her rooms on August 6, 1903. Bloch said nothing on the scaffold. Berks County's new gallows, prepared for Mrs. Edwards' hanging, was borrowed for the occasion.

Albert Suenier, a restaurant keeper, of Shenandoah, found five pearls in an oyster. A jeweler says they are worth $300.

QUEEN BEES WORTH $200 EACH. Some of the Italian Insects Are Extremely Valuable.

Just as there are valuable strains in horses, cattle and other stocks, so there are varieties of queen bees which are worth many hundred times their weight in gold. The most valuable strain, says the New York Herald, is the Italian, and many Italian bee farmers demand and receive without question prices ranging from $50 to $200 for a single queen bee of a certain kind. Such bees are sent all over the world.

The owner of a bee farm near Ottawa, Can., goes to Europe annually and brings back with him bees of an aggregate value of thousands of pounds. He is enabled through the agency of an Italian firm to effect an insurance upon the most valuable of his queens.

This bee farmer has many strange experiences in connection with the assistants he is obliged to engage. Of course all bee keepers must submit to a certain amount of stinging. But in some cases the poison in the sting acts directly upon the assistants and makes them alarmingly ill. Others are immune, though stung hundreds of times.

Bee farmers are often applied to by persons suffering from rheumatism who wish to place themselves in the way of being stung. And, strange as it may seem, the virus of the bee sting does often act as a cure to persons suffering from serious attacks of rheumatism.

THE TRICKS Coffee Plays on Some.

It hardly pays to laugh before you are certain of facts, for it is sometimes humiliating to think of afterwards.

"When I was a young girl I was a lover of coffee, but was sick so much the doctor told me to quit and I did, but after my marriage my husband begged me to drink it again as he did not think it was the coffee caused the troubles."

"So I commenced it again and continued about 6 months until my stomach commenced acting bad and choking as if I had swallowed something the size of an egg. One doctor said it was neuralgia and indigestion."

"One day I took a drive with my husband three miles in the country and I drank a cup of coffee for dinner. I thought sure I would die before I got back to town to a doctor. I was drawn double in the buggy and when my husband latched the horse to get me out into the doctor's office, misery came up in my throat and seemed to shut my breath off entirely, then left all in a flash and went to my heart. The doctor pronounced it nervous heart trouble and when I got home I was so weak I could not sit up."

"My husband brought my supper to my bedside with a nice cup of hot coffee, but I said: 'Take that back, dear, I will never drink another cup of coffee if you gave me everything you are worth, for it is just killing me.' He and the others laughed at me and said: 'The idea of coffee killing anybody.'"

"Well, I said, 'It is nothing else but coffee that is doing it.'"

"In the grocery one day my husband was persuaded to buy a box of Postum which he brought home and I made it for dinner and we both thought how good it was but said nothing to the hired men and they thought they had drunk coffee until we laughed and told them. Well, we kept on with Postum and it was not long before the color came back to my cheeks and I got stout and felt as good as I ever did in my life. I have no more stomach trouble and I know I owe it all to Postum in place of coffee."

"My husband has gained a good health on Postum, as well as baby and I, and we all think nothing is too good to say about it." Name given by Postum Co., Battle Creek, Mich.

THE AFTER-DINNER ORATOR.

English Innovation Has Many Good Points to Recommend It.

A London club, the Bartholomew, gave its annual banquet the other day. The postprandial orators were conspicuous by their silence." Not a speech was made. When the banquet had reached the oratorical stage little books were distributed among the guests and in these booklets were printed the speeches of the gentlemen who had accepted invitations to respond to toasts. London Truth says this banquet was an epoch-making affair. It was certainly a unique one and not unworthy of imitation on this side of the Atlantic. The Bartholomew club of London has established a precedent which ought not to be ignored in the United States because of its English origin. The banquet is entitled to some consideration and should be protected when the after-dinner orator, like the brook, is inclined to "go on forever." In congress a speaker is "given permission to print," and really never delivers his speech. The plan might work well at banquets.

The Good Old Name. The words "esquire" and "gentleman" are among those which fall from our lips daily, and yet most of us would be rather puzzled to say in precise language what we meant by them. In a recent county court case a schoolmaster was ruled out of the "gentleman" list. The Law Times points out, however, that legal distinctions on the point have been anomalous. The following are not "gentlemen": A buyer of silks, a solicitor's clerk out of regular work, a commission agent and an audit office clerk. On the other hand, the following have been held "gentlemen": viz.: One following country pursuits and a sleeping partner in some business, a medical student, a dismissed coal agent out of work and a person living on a parent's allowance.—Dundee Advertiser.

Many Persons Have Catarrh of Kidneys, Or Catarrh of Bladder and Don't Know It.

President Newhof and War Correspondent Richards Were Promptly Cured by Pe-ru-na.

Mr. C. B. Newhof, 10 Delaware Street, Albany, N. Y., President Montefiore Club, writes:

"Since my advanced age I find that I have been troubled with urinary ailments. The bladder seemed irritated, and my physician said that it was catarrh caused by a protracted cold which would be difficult to overcome on account of my advanced years. I took Peruna, hardly daring to believe that I would be helped. But I found to my relief that I soon began to mend. The irritation gradually subsided and the urinary difficulties passed away. I have enjoyed excellent health now for the past seven months. I enjoy my meals, sleep soundly, and am as well as I was ten years ago. I give all praise to Peruna."—C. B. Newhof.

Suffered From Catarrh of Kidneys, Threatened With Nervous Collapse, Cured by Pe-ru-na.

Mr. F. B. Richards, 699 E. Street, N. W., Washington, D. C., War Correspondent, writes: "Exactly six years ago I was ordered to Cuba as staff correspondent of the New York Sun. I was in charge of a San Dispatch boat through the Spanish-American War, the effect of the tropical climate and the nervous strain showed plainly on my return to the States. Lassitude, depression to the verge of melancholia, and incessant kidney trouble made me practically an invalid. This undesirable condition continued, despite the best of treatment.

"Finally a brother newspaper man, who like myself had served in the war, induced me to give a faithful trial to Peruna. I did so. In a short time the lassitude left me, my kidneys resumed a healthy condition, and a complete cure was effected. I cannot too strongly recommend Peruna to those suffering with kidney trouble. To-day I am able to work as hard as at any time in my life, and the examining agent of a leading insurance company pronounced me an 'A' risk."

In Poor Health Over Four Years, Pe-ru-na Only Remedy of Real Benefit.

Mr. John Nimmo, 215 Lippincott St., Toronto, Can., a prominent merchant of that city and also a member of the Masonic order, writes:

"I have been in poor health generally for over four years. When I caught a bad cold last winter it settled in the bladder and kidneys, causing serious trouble. I took two greatly advertised kidney remedies without getting the desired results. Peruna is the only remedy which really of any benefit to me. I have not had a trace of kidney trouble nor a cold in my system."

Pe-ru-na Contains No Narcotics. One reason why Peruna has found permanent use in so many homes is that it contains no narcotic of any kind. Peruna is perfectly harmless. It can be used any length of time without acquiring a drug habit. Peruna does not produce temporary results. It is permanent in its effect.

It has no bad effect upon the system, and gradually eliminates catarrh by removing the cause of catarrh. There are a multitude of homes where Peruna has been used off and on for twenty years. Such a thing could not be possible if Peruna contained any drugs of a narcotic nature.
